WILL ROGERS REMARKS
RENO, March 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Just advised publicly and free the Governor, Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Nevada at Carson City. They killed the licensed gambling bill there today. The gamblers killed it. They said, why should gambling be permitted all over America and not have to pay any license? It was almost like asking a bootlegger to pay a license. After people have gambled for years for nothing it's hard to get them to pay a license for it.
WILL ROGERS.

The crates were addressed to Fred Selwyn, Selwyn's brother, and were found in the suite. They contained seventy-eight quarts of champagne, four cases of whisky and two cases of cognac. Mr. Selwyn is staying at the Ritz Carlton and will be questioned by Assistant Solicitor General Barnes tomorrow. He said tonight, however, that he knew nothing about the liquor. Mr. Selwyn was questioned by Mr. Barnes today and said the same thing. Inspector Steifel of the searching squad made the seizure Tuesday when he was looking for the man in the corridor and found no one to claim them. He broke into them and discovered the contraband.

Letter Sent to Princeton's
Head Defends Justice of American Terms

"Common Cause" Arguments
Declared to Overlook Important Phase

WASHINGTON, March 16. (P)—A reopening of foreign debt settlements, in Secretary Mellon's opinion, would be a step backward "calculated to produce discord and confusion rather than contribute to the economic stability and orderly betterment of world prosperity."

His view was set forth in a letter to President Hiram of Princeton University, made public today at the Treasury without comment.

It was in reply to the suggestion of members of the Princeton and Columbia University faculties for a revision of the American debt settlements, and was considered as the Treasury's official answer to the question of the administration's attitude toward any deviation from its debt funding policy.

REASONS GIVEN
Asserting that a nation is hardly likely to deserve and maintain the respect of other nations by sacrificing its own just claims, Mr. Mellon declared that cancellation of debts owed the United States would not of itself change the attitude with which the educators declared European loan on this country.

With reference to the unsatisfied French debt settlement, the Secretary said that "it would not have been amiss for you and your associates to have taken into consideration the fact that the inevitable effect of such a pronouncement would be to encourage and strengthen the opposition in foreign countries to such ratification."

But encouragement, he added, would be entirely unwarranted in view of the approval of the Mellon-Sherman debt funding accord by the American House of Representatives, in which debate "indicated that an overwhelming majority of the Representatives were opposed to more lenient terms."

WHAT IT MEANS
Declaring that the advances to foreign countries were beyond dispute loans and not contributions to allies, Mr. Mellon said that what the United States government had done in effect during the war was to enable its associates to borrow money in the American investment market, with government indemnities, liberty bonds being sold to provide money for the loans. The situation, he contended, would have been no different had the foreign countries sold their own bonds in the American market.

"I recognize that there is merit in the contention that the associated governments might well have joined in pooling their resources in a common cause," the Secretary told Mr. Hiram, "and that even now an argument can be made in favor of writing off debts incurred after our entry into the war to the extent that they were incurred for contributions to a common cause, but, and this is an all-important reservation, there is merit to such an argument only if the proposed adjustment is to be a mutual one and is to be applied to all on a strictly equal basis."

TAX DRIVES OUT
JAZZ DANCING

Wiley Buchanan Chief Plaza
Fee at 25 a Minute to End Charleston

BUCHANAN, March 16. (P)—It costs $2 a minute to dance the Charleston during the dinner hour here and hence many jazz bands are on their way to other lands.

The Prefect of Police is taxing the "new" dance out of existence. The Charleston is in disfavor for many reasons, but the wise old chief, Chas. Buchanan, knowing human nature, did not forbid the dance. He received protests against the Charleston, but put taxes on all dance establishments. His license fees are $120 an hour from 7 to 9 o'clock, which hits the restaurants; $16 an hour from 9 until midnight, and $32 an hour thereafter.

seems to have been completely overlooked by the faculties of Columbia and Princeton universities and by other advocates of debt cancellation urging the common cause contribution argument.

Referring to the origin of the debt, Mr. Mellon pointed out that while the allies bought supplies in this country on credit, the United States bought supplies and services from France and the British Empire "by hundreds of millions" and paid cash.

"Here is the fundamental reason which explains why we ended the war with a surplus of cash and not owing a cent," continued Mr. Mellon. "We are now urged to cancel these debts on credit, which would be incurred in a common cause, but neither abroad nor in this country has it been suggested that the dollars actually expended by us in France and Great Britain so that the goods and services they sold us might constitute their contribution to the common cause."

Secretary Mellon challenged the accuracy of statements that the terms of the debt settlements impose a tremendous tax burden on the next two generations of friendly countries. The sums paid to the United States, he declared, will come from taxation but will be more than met by the payments to be exacted from Germany by the powers.

Water Law Hearing Tuesday

Grade-Crossing Question to Come Up Today

BY C. A. JONES

SACRAMENTO, March 16. (Exclusive)—A bill providing for the creation of a game refuge in the Los Angeles county park at Big Pines was introduced in the Senate today by Senator H. J. Evans of Monterey. It was referred to the Fish and Game Committee, the chairman, Senator Chamberlain of Los Angeles, promising an early hearing.

The bill was drawn by County Counsel Mattoon and his deputy, Homer Mitchell. It is stated that the purpose of the bill is to protect the wild life in the park, particularly the deer, so that herds of tame deer, such as are seen in Yosemite National Park, may be maintained.

Preparations are being made today to assemble many notable water resource reports for the public hearing next Tuesday upon Assemblyman Bradford Crittenden's constitutional amendment to solve the water problems of the state, proposed by the Herringham decision of last December.

RIPARIAN RIGHTS EXCESSIVE
The law at present, as determined by the Herringham decision, provides that the riparian owner is entitled to full control and vested right in the flow of the stream, including flood waters. This is regarded as seriously interfering with hydroelectric projects and irrigation districts, which must impound the spring flood waters in order to obtain an aqueduct flow during the lean summer months.

Assemblyman Crittenden's amendment calls for the results of intensive study of the water question by the Senate and Assemblymen which sat during the constitutional recess and continued its session during the last session.

The amendment will write into the State Constitution the policy that conditions require that the resources of the State be put to beneficial use with the elimination of waste and declares that the conservation of water shall be within the police power of the State.

WATER COMMISSION PROVIDED
Senator H. C. Jones has a bill proposing the creation of a commission to be appointed by the Governor to investigate and report on the water problem. The commission is expected to lay the stringent police power, which is to be exercised, according to the bill, to exercise eminent domain.

Another bill which has created much opposition in Assembly Bill No. 247 by Assemblyman Dillingham provides for the creation of a water commission in a county may be retained in the county.

Mr. Dillingham represents three mountain counties. Opponents of the bill are the water companies, who are on the surface, the provisions are such that no utility, whether private or publicly owned, will be able to erect a large plant with the possibility of having the county withdraw the water, thus stranding the investment.

Arranged against this bill are representatives of municipal corporations, private corporations and municipally owned utilities.

GRADE CROSSINGS UP
A resolution proposing that the State of California enter into the investigation of the grade-crossing problem will be introduced tomorrow in the Senate, according to Senator Garrison of Modesto.

The resolution would have Gov. Young appoint a committee of nine, the personnel to consist of representatives of the following organizations: Senate, Assembly, Railroad Commission, Highway Commission, County Supervisors' Association, California State Automobile Association, Automobile Club of Southern California, railroad commission, California State Automobile Association, and Senator Garrison.

$100,000 to Ton

PHOENIX, March 16. (P)—James B. Girard, veteran hardware merchant and engineer, today announced discovery of gold in the Dripping Spring country about 150 miles east of Phoenix. The discovery was made by Dan McGraw, veteran Nevada prospector.

Samples assayed $100,000 a ton according to the Phoenix Assay Office. Hundreds of Arizona mines are in the hands of the Arizona Assay Office. The discovery was made by Dan McGraw, veteran Nevada prospector.

Girard said the gold lies in what is technically called brecciated mass, all ground up between quartzite and diorite formations and the greater part of it is free, or wire, gold. Unlike most gold it is not held in the quartz.

The mine was located jointly in the name of Girard and McGraw. The mine was located jointly in the name of Girard and McGraw.

COURT SYSTEM
CHANGES TOLD

Judicial Council's Plan to be

Wider Jurisdiction Granted
Lower Tribunals

Appellate Powers Conferred
on District Judges

SACRAMENTO, March 16. (P)—As the final draft of the Judicial Council's recommendations to the Legislature for revising the judicial system of the State nears completion, added details of the plan for making the Justice and Municipal courts the principal trial tribunals, with the Superior Court setting much in the present capacity of the Appellate Court as a court of appeal, have been announced by Judge William H. Wastie, chairman and presiding justice of the Superior Court.

The recommendations are now being prepared in constitutional amendment form by Judge William H. Wastie, chairman and presiding justice of the Superior Court.

LOWER COURTS EMPOWERED
The council would have the Legislature delegate to the Municipal and Justice courts power to try any case in which a felony is charged by information or indictment. Also the Legislature would be empowered to give the power to authorize these lower courts to try many of the civil cases now heard in the Superior Court.

The power of the Appellate Court will be broadened by providing that all appeals within the jurisdiction of the Superior Court in law and equity shall be taken direct to the Appellate court, except those cases involving the death penalty and constitutional questions.

SUPREMACY TRIBUNAL'S FUNCTION
The Superior Court will retain its present power to entertain applications for and issue writs of mandamus, prohibition, review and habeas corpus and also its power to transfer to its calendar any case after a decision in one of the lower tribunals.

The amendment will further provide that the present courts shall not be disturbed, that the present provisions establishing the judicial system and the Judicial Council shall remain intact; that the judges in office at the time of the adoption of the amendment by the people shall continue in their positions, and will confer upon the Legislature authority to create additional divisions of the District Court of Appeal.

Evangelist-Bandits Urge a

Robbery Confess in Court

CINCINNATI, March 16. (P)—Urged to penitence by Herbert Wilson, an evangelist who turned bandit, George Garabaldi and Joseph Cameron pleaded guilty to a $10,000 mail robbery here in 1921 and were sentenced to four years each in prison today.

Wilson was a member of the gang that looted a mail truck six years ago. Arrested in Los Angeles as a suspect, he murdered a cellmate in an attempt to escape from the County Jail there. After conviction of the murder he confessed to the robbery and implicated Garabaldi and Cameron.

He was brought to the County Jail here from California pending the trial of the two men. While imprisoned with them Wilson urged them to plead guilty and serve their time.

Two other members of the gang, Louis Wilson, brother of Herbert, and Charles McQuire, are being sought, while Joseph Berthiaume, a sixth member, is fighting extradition from Chicago.

Herbert Wilson is under life sentence in San Quentin penitentiary for the murder of his cellmate in Los Angeles.

Apparently have completely won the good graces of the local labor unions, the object of insuring a campaign of intimidation and murder, with the object of insuring a solid and prompt response for a general strike when the call is issued.

The nearest translation of the Chinese description of these agitators is "expert intimidators." Under their direction, labor unrest in Shanghai is increasing daily. Their chief objective is to work on the foreign-owned countrymen's fear of personal injury or injury to their families so as to create terror throughout the ranks of unionism and force solidarity when a strike call is issued.

For many days there has been an average of one murder daily in Shanghai of a foreman or some other leader among the workers who opposed the last strike. None of the assassins has been apprehended.

RIVER CLAIM WIPE OUT

Cameron's Lose Boulder Area

Asserted Placer Filings Said
to be Aimed at Tying Up Dam Site Rights

Suit on Final Locations of Group Still on Docket of Arizona Court

PHOENIX, March 16. (Exclusive)—The Boulder Canyon dam site and the reservoir area above it appears to have been at least partially relieved of a serious conflicting claim by a decree of the Federal court at Canon City, against Ralph H. Cameron, Jr., and others enjoining them from asserting any claim to, or using the land in question in any manner or any of the natural products thereof. The decree, dated the 11th inst., followed stipulation of counsel, without going to trial with the case.

Plaintiff in the action was the United States, represented by George Springmeyer, Federal Attorney for the Nevada district, and Harold Baxter. The defendants named were Ralph H. Cameron, Jr., son of former Senator Ralph H. Cameron of Arizona, the Senator's wife, Ida M. Cameron, and his official secretary, E. W. Campbell. George H. Stetson of Pasadena and several members of his family, generally resident in Philadelphia, and a number of others, the process being against twenty-three individuals.

The Nevada suit was filed July 28, 1925, asking vacation of sixty-three asserted placer mining claims, which had been placed by the defendants on the channel of the Colorado River, with inclusion of the Black or Boulder Canyon dam sites and twenty-five miles of the reservoir area above. The complaint asserted that the filings were on land valueless for mineral development, though there had been declarations of discoveries of gold, platinum and other metals. It also was charged that the filings, which dated from 1917, had been placed upon lands already withdrawn by the government from entry, under authorization of a Congressional act of 1902.

The complaint declared that the defendants' real purpose in location of the ground was "for the purpose of utilizing the water and water power resources of said Colorado River and the storage reservoirs and dam sites adjacent thereto with the intent and purpose to deceive and defraud the plaintiff."

SUIT STILL ON FILE

On July 22, 1925, a similar suit was filed in the United States District Court in Phoenix by Atty. Gen. John G. Sargent, which then special assistant to the Attorney-General, filed in the United States District Court at Prescott. It affects locations on fifty-five placer claims, of 160 acres each, generally situated within the State of Arizona, although a number of the claims are reported to be in both Arizona and Nevada. This is understood to be the last of the Cameron claims to lands, dam sites, power development locations or mineral claims along the Colorado River, after about thirty years of litigation, almost continuously prosecuted in the Federal and State courts and in the Land Office.

These Cameron claims latterly have borne the name of the Senator only with respect to one group of twenty-eight platinum placer claims, down in the Grand Canyon, upstream from the Bright Angel Trail. These locations were eliminated by a decision of the Secretary of the Interior, who sustained a ruling of the Commissioner of the General Land Office reversing an order of the Phoenix Land Office in Cameron's favor. The government's experts found no platinum or other mineral of value.

BRIGHT ANGEL CLAIMS

The hardest fight was over possession of the Bright Angel Trail area, down into the canyon from El Tovar. This had been covered by about fifty mineral locations and mill sites, placed by Cameron, with inclusion of much of the rim and of ground occupied by the Santa Fe system's depot and hotels.

New York Dancing Lessons by Radio Have Housewives Acting "Like Trees in a High Wind," Scantly Clad and With Large Damage to Crockery Feared

NEW YORK, March 16. (AP)—There's many a sore back and maybe even a goodly bit of broken crockery across the country today, provided radio listeners tuned in on WGBS last night did as they were told.

For that station to balance the morning setting-up exercises for father and the boys, inaugurated a weekly air school in "ecstatic" dancing for mother and the girls, and some of the things the women folk were told to do may have caused havoc in the smaller apartments.

Miss Evelyn Bates was the instructor, and as she directed her listeners to "act like trees in a high wind," or "lean lightly in large a circle as the room permits," five of her pupils, barefoot and clad in the traditional gauzy garments of the woodland dance, cavorted on the carpet of the broadcasting room before the impenetrable microphone "to give an atmosphere of reality."

Just how many housewives actually obeyed orders, even to the "dress just as lightly as possible" instructions, and impersonated foliage quivering in a hurricane was uncertain, but they were invited to write in and tell Miss Bates was optimistic that the new school would prove a success.

"Before we're through," she said confidently, "we'll have the whole family dancing in their own homes once a week to give expression to their finer feelings. What the proper home dancing costume for father would be she did not say."

ALBANY (N. Y.), March 16. (AP)—Constitutionality of the prohibition amendment was asserted by a petitioner in the Legislature today on the basis of a 128-year-old letter contained in a musty volume published ninety-five years ago. If this volume, little known and apparently never before discovered by the opponents of prohibition, had been in the hands of the United States Supreme Court when that body upheld the Eighteenth Amendment, the petitioner asserted in effect, the court probably would have ruled against the amendment and prohibition would have died at birth.

NEW YORK, March 16. (Exclusive)—The separation suit brought by Count Ludwig Salm against his wife, the former Millicent Rogers, has been settled out of court, it was reported today. The case will be officially terminated shortly through the filing of a discontinuance order signed by counsel for both sides.

To effect this discontinuance a cash transfer occurred, the size of which is indicated by the fact that one of the attorneys received $100,000 as a fee for his part in the proceedings. Count Salm accepted to withdraw action varying from $50,000 to $200,000 exclusive of counsel fees.

Vote on Rejection of Plan
Will be Taken Today

LONDON, March 16. (AP)—American motion pictures which flicker nightly on 95 per cent of Great Britain's screens, took up a similar percentage of time of the House of Commons today when Laborites and Liberals lined up against the government's bill for the development of the British film industry.

The bill, which has passed its first reading, would require both exhibitors and renters to use at least 71-2 per cent of British-made films in all programs, the quota being subject to a yearly increase until a total of 80 per cent of British-made films would be required.

VOTE TOMORROW

Former Premier MacDonald, the Labor leader, moved for rejection of the measure. A vote will be taken on his motion tomorrow.

Mr. MacDonald said that if the principle of the 25 per cent for which the bill provided were applied generally, 25 per cent of all concert programs would have to be English music, while 25 per cent of all school programs would have to be of the empire-grown product to every customer.

ADVERTISING POWER

Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, Conservative, stating the government's case, said the bill carried out the wishes of the recent imperial conference. "From the trade viewpoint," he said, "this is the greatest advertising power in the world and this is realized particularly by the American people."

Barring of 'Decameron' From Mails Surprise

Action of Postal Authorities
Much Discussed

Granddads Cited as Readers of 'Naughty' Books

WASHINGTON, March 16. (Exclusive)—The action of the Postoffice Department in forbidding the use of the mails to Charles Boni, New York publisher, for his new expurgated edition of Boccaccio's "Decameron" aroused widespread interest in Washington today.
It was the first information that the public has had in Washington that the postoffice authorities are setting themselves up as censors of classical literature or inaugurating a purity campaign and brought up the subject of what class of readers go in for the sexy and salacious reading.
Inquiry at Washington bookstores established that so far as the capital is concerned it is the older people and not the flaming youth, who read
this character of books.

ELDERLY READERS

There are some youngsters of both sexes who like to read a "bad book"
on the fly, scratch the thrill of "getting by with it," but more granddads than flappers read the sex literature, according to a leading Washington book seller. In fact, this was the consensus of proprietors and clerks of seven of Washington's best stocked and most representative bookshops.

"Whether the crusaders read them or not, I do not know," said one dealer, "but I do know they don't buy the sexy books. The older women and men are the best purchasers.
They buy different kinds, however.
Men buy the 'art' magazines, full

FATHER CONFESSES KILLINGS

Parent Tells Priest of Strangling Children With Anesthetic and Repeats Story to Police

CHICAGO, March 16. (AP)—Arrested on information supplied the police by a Catholic priest, Walter Scholl calmly confessed late today that he killed his children, Vivian, 8 years of age, and Donald, 6, by covering their faces with towels saturated with an anesthetic and then strangling them in an unoccupied house at Gary, Ind., on last Wednesday.

Immediately after his confession, five years ago, he said, and after his h was returned to Gary, where his second wife left him recently, he feared the children would suffer from lack of a mother's care.

He declared he had intended to kill himself but that Father Bede had dissuaded him.

He recalled that he "tried to get along with the children by myself, getting them their breakfast, sending them to school, and getting them
home in the afternoon."

"Each day I got more despondent,"
he said.

WIFE CONFRONTS HIM
After Scholl had signed his confession, Mrs. Scholl was led to him, not warned that she was about to be confronted by her husband, Mrs.
Scholl was startled, hesitated, and then ran to him.

"Honey, I have been worried about you," she said as they embraced.
"Oh, dear, I'm glad to see you,"
Scholl said, as he kissed her.

"He isn't to blame," Mrs. Scholl said, as police released her from custody. "He was mentally deficient
when I married him. I know it right away. I want to do all I can to help him."

CONFESSIONS TO PRIEST
Scholl yesterday went to Rev. Father Bede, at St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, and told of the killings.

Scholl, unarmed, offered no resistance when the officers rushed the house at the address supplied by Father Bede.

Without display of emotion or remorse he launched into his narration of the details of the crime.
His children's mother died some time ago. "I don't think they take the time to read any. When they do buy it's a comic or a collegiate monthly."

"I don't know where to draw the line," said a Pennsylvania-avenue dealer. "I don't know whether I'd sell some of those magazines objected to half as bad as a few so-called ones I know of. Of course, most of the nude picture books are terrible."

PLANS FOR IRRIGATION
PROJECT DISCLOSED

SACRAMENTO, March 16. (AP)—
Plans for a $250,000 irrigation project
near Valparaiso, Los Angeles county, were revealed here today when Ralph Bennett, of Los Angeles, applied to the State Division of Water Rights for permission to divert 3000 acre feet of water from Big Rock Creek. The water will be used for irrigating 8000 acres in the immediate vicinity of the project.

FRENCHMAN
BUYS CROWN OF RUSSIANS

Famed Nuptial Jewels
Sold After Wild Scene at Paris Auction

(Copyright, 1927, by Charles F. Johnson)

LONDON, March 16. (Exclusive)—
After hectic bidding M. Poussem of Paris became the owner of the famous Russian nuptial crown of darling, brilliant, splendid, which, for $80,000 when the famous crown jewels were submitted by an auctioneer for the first time in history at Christie's
this afternoon.

Fashionably dressed society people stormed the auction room when the doors were opened for the sale of glittering gems, originally cherished possessions of Czar Paul of Russia and the Orloff family, which, for auction purposes, were divided into 124 lots, comprising besides the crown court sword, diamond pendants, diamond buttons, bracelets and necklaces.

The doors were kept shut until the first lot was offered. When the clerk admitted the throng of fashionables, lined up and down the street, he was swept away by the rush. Women's hats went awry and coats were caught in the fixtures, compelling him to shut out the rest.

Only part of the jewels which were brought to England by the syndicate were put up today. The total realized from the day's sales is officially given as about $400,000.

Doll Sent From Germany Hides
Brandy Bottle

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16. (Exclusive)—Some little girl in Lodi can have a pretty, fair-haired doll from Germany if she calls at the custom house and identifies it. But her parents may be called upon to explain how the doll happened to be stuffed with a bottle of brandy instead of sawdust.

The package arrived in San Francisco from Germany today and when Appraiser of Customs Bert Kahn opened it to learn whether the goods were dutiable he noted the extreme weight of the doll. Removal of its dress revealed the brandy inside.

WASHINGTON, March 16. (Exclu-

the 21st inst., when work will commence on the lighting of the western end of the Los Angeles Salt Lake

Canada in New

Bootleg Trade

VANCOUVER (B. C.) March 16. (AP)—
The government liquor control board has decided to open a night liquor store here in an effort to "compete with the bootleggers," the Vancouver Province says.

The closing time of the govern-

store probably will open at 8 p.m.
and close at 3 a.m.

saved from drowning early today by a policeman who swam inside the

Gigantic Woolen Purchase

"OLD KING SPOT CASH" scores again. Recently a WHOLESAL WOOLEN HOUSE, after feeling the pangs of depression finally decided that the time had come to either quit business of their own accord or be forced out by the creditors. Instead of going thru the "red tape" of the bankruptcy court, or making an assignment to the Board of Trade, they figured that I, with my tremendous outlet and sales volume and SPOT CASH BUYING POWER, was the logical man to handle the situation. I OFFERED MY PRICE and then laid my SPOT CASH "cards on the table" as a "take it or leave it" proposition. I was accepted and closed what I consider the GREATEST WOOLEN PURCHASE EVER MADE. These are woollens that would originally sell from $60.00 to $100.00 per suit, but this "pick-up" that I have made for literally "a song" allows me to GIVE YOU TWO of these SUITS, elegantly tailored at the PRICE OF ONE. This loss is your gain and as proof positive

$100 REWARD

will be given to any man who can prove that he has not been offered either a suit or an overcoat, tailor-made, absolutely WITHOUT ADDITIONAL CHARGE, with each suit purchased for $29.50

and to prove conclusively that this sale is absolutely genuine.

$29.50
And up in this gigantic offer

A PERSONAL WORD FROM BUDDY:
GENTLEMEN—On my word as a gentleman I can truthfully and sincerely tell you that this is positively the greatest "strike" I have ever made. I have offered bargains before but NEVER in all my experience in the tailoring industry have I or any one else ever been able to offer values like these. These are NEW WOOLENS direct from the WHOLESALER BELOW MILL PRICES.
This is a WHOLESAL SACRIFICE OF WHOLESAL WOOLENS greatly BELOW WHOLE-SALE PRICES to you. An event of this kind NEVER HAS and NEVER WILL be duplicated in this city. I will go so far as to say—BRING ME A SAMPLE FROM YOUR TAILOR and I WILL DUPLICATE IT IN STYLE, QUALITY and WORKMANSHIP as far as my stock will permit me and give you TWO SUITS AT HIS PRICE OF ONE. I stand ready at all times to verify the veracity of this assertion. There are no "ifs" and "ands" and "buts" to this offer.
It is clean and clearly defined, and comes from an unquestionably reliable source, and will have the closest scrutiny of the most discriminating buyers of tailor-made clothes.

You absolutely get an extra suit, tailored to measure, either for yourself or a friend WITH-OUT ANY EXTRA CHARGE and by manipulating an enormous sales volume, the excellence of both garments is maintained. Before going elsewhere, spare me a few moments of your time and allow me to show you the most beautiful assortment of woollens ever assembled.

Sincerely

"BUD" COLMAN.

Stanford to Send Five Invading Athletic Teams to Compete Here Next Week

TRACKMEN TO STAY IN NORTH

Cinder Athletes Will Battle Olympic Club Runners

Baseball, Tennis, Swimming Squads to Show Here

Templeton Works Wonders on Cardinal Track Team

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 16.—With quarter final examinations ending Friday Stanford athletes on Saturday will start the real drive for spring sports championships, meeting the Olympic club in track and St. Marys in baseball, following which will begin the annual vacation exodus of Card teams to Southern California.

Five Stanford squads, baseball, track, tennis, swimming and golf, will compete in and about Los Angeles between Tuesday and Saturday, inclusive.

The Stanford-Olympic track meet should provide a real comparison between Cards and Trojans. The latter beat the East Francisco clubmen, 88-5-4 to 42-1-4, last Saturday at Los Angeles.

TRY NEW MEN
If Richmond, the new Stanford sprinter, can beat the Olympic dash star at East Beach and House of U.S.C. and if the Stanford hurdlers, West and Nichols, can chase Lester down the lanes as did Reynolds of U.S.C., Cards will figure the breaks in these events nearly even, and will hope for pleasant things in the coming U.S.C.-Stanford engagement.

Ryan has dropped out of track, partly because he was unable to gain early season form due to a football injury, and partly because he wished to devote the rest of the spring to preparation for football next fall, which leaves Richmond alone in the sprints at the present time.

There is, however, on the Card squad, a young unheralded candidate who may blossom out some time soon, or maybe not until next season. His name is Wesley Doo and he hails from Idaho.

He has plenty of sprinter's earmarks, including a big stride, natural speed, and something of a heavy trifle, but he doesn't yet have too much form. He pulled an ankle tendon early in the year, which may keep him out of competition until he comes back, watch for him.

Speaking of stride, Richmond has one of the longest legs in Stanford, and he has a good deal of it. It measures nearly twelve feet.

Experts hereabouts figure "Dink" Templeton proved real dual strength in the first meet last Saturday when he beat the Hollywood A. C. stars, 88-5-4 to 44-1-4.

STARS SHIFTED
It is interesting to note that Templeton acquired the necessary balance in his dual speed by making a 100 ft. sprinter's start of a high jumper (Richmann), a 48-1-56, quarter-mile out of a hurdler (Spencer), a 4m. 31s. mile out of a half-mile (McKinnin), and a 2m. half-mile of a quarter-mile (Moss). In these events, without the men shifted from their better fields of endeavor, Stanford would have no strength at all. Already Spencer and Richmann have shown surprising strength, while Moss and McKinnin, though they are coming more slowly, will take points in all of the dual meets.

Both the latter men will improve their times materially.

In baseball St. Mary's holds the Templeton proved real dual strength in the first meet last Saturday when he beat the Hollywood A. C. stars, 88-5-4 to 44-1-4.

Coach Ernest Brandt's swimming team beat California, 18 to 11, and is considered the strongest on the Coast. Card men meet U.S.C. a week from Saturday at Los Angeles.

Stanford golfers tie off with Southern Branch a week from Friday.

The Stanford tennis candidates, led by Cranston Holman, beginning Monday play U.S.C., Southern Branch, Pomona, Occidental and the Midwest Club, which will give them a plenty busy week in Southern California.

In this manner also, they successfully held the league leading Palais de Glace outfit at a 4-0-2 score.

Rumor has it that Berkeley and Washington will send teams southward to play the intercollegiate champions here, which to all appearances will be the Bruins.

BUCK JONES TROPHY SHIPPED TO BANNING

The "Buck" Jones trophy to be given to the winning auto racer, Sunday afternoon at Banning was shipped to American Legion officials last night. It is said that the cup is the most valuable trophy ever put up for a dirt-track race.

Bert Spencer, Mexican racing champion, is one of the hot favorites to win the cup. Speed Hunkley, Ed Winnfield, Dale Spence and Francis Quinn are also heavy favorites. Plenty of money has shown up in the past few days to be bet on Quinn and it is being snapped up.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BUSTANIER
BILL HENRY

IF THE weather holds out there is going to be some genuine excitement over at the Hotel Huntington this week-end when Northern and Southern California clubs clash on the courts of the hotel with Helen Wills as the main attraction. It will be the first competitive appearance of the famous champion since she defaulted in the East after her appendicitis operation. However, the really hot competition promises to take place in the men's events, where the pick of the local youngsters will tangle with the best of San Francisco's younger generation. There will scarcely be a single player over the age of 25 in the Huntington event, and yet with the exception of Bill Johnston they comprise the pick of the entire California circuit. The most interesting will be the showing of Cranston Holman, the Stanford boy who beat Bill Riden recently.

There is pretty likely to be an interesting scramble one of these days for the person of Joe Teachout, the demon Ox left-hander, who shut out the Hollywood club the other day. Left-handers who have good control are as scarce as millionaires here, but control is what Bud has, and he is a real find. Solly Miskin, the first baseman, and Les Haverst, shortstop, are two other exceptional ball players on the Tiger club and all of them

NET PROGRAM ARRANGED

Drawings Made for Tennis Tournament to Start on Pasadena Courts Tomorrow Afternoon

With the entries of Miss Helen Wills, greatest of American women tennis players and three-time national women's champion; Cranston Holman and Gerald Stratford, high-rating collegiate national players, the annual Huntington Hotel Invitational tennis tournament will get under way tomorrow afternoon on the hotel courts with eight classy matches on tap. Play will continue Saturday and Sunday with the final.

Helen Wills, the Berkeley girl, leading the invading northern stars, will make her appearance at 2 o'clock to tangle with Marjorie Gladman, the leading Southern junior and twice Southern prep champion. Miss Gladman, local youngster, has made wonderful victories in Southern women's tennis, but against the greatest of women players in America she is expected to play her best game. Other women's matches will feature the Marion Williams and Mrs. Winifred Burr Ottinger who meet Dorothy Robinson and Dorothy Robinson, respectively, in other first-round contests.

Ray Casey, Neil Brown and Vincent Brown, who are the leading highlights who will start play in the men's singles tomorrow. Casey faces the local senior, while Neil Brown, Vincent Brown, the latter from the University of California, will tangle with Ben Gorchakov, Southern and city men's champion, will have his hands full with the local star, Warren. Another of those close encounters.

The complete entry lists in women's and men's singles follow:
Men's—Gerald Stratford, Cranston Holman, Johnny Doo, Ben Gorchakov, Vincent Brown, Ray Casey, Ralph Sindorf, Ray Casey, Brown, Vincent Brown, Gene Warren, Allen Harrington and Johnny Wheatley.

Women's—Helen Wills, Midge Gladman, Dorothy Robinson, Peggy James, Elizabeth Dike, Marion Williams, Winifred Burr Ottinger and Carolina Swartz.

Following is the drawing for the men's and women's singles events:
Men's—Stratford vs. Doo, Doo vs. Miller, Doo vs. Brown, Brown vs. Casey, Casey vs. Brown, Brown vs. Gorchakov, Gorchakov vs. Brown, Brown vs. Warren, Warren vs. Harrington, Harrington vs. Wheatley.

Women's—Wills vs. Gladman, Gladman vs. Robinson, Robinson vs. Dike, Dike vs. Williams, Williams vs. Ottinger, Ottinger vs. Swartz.

Wallace Beery, noted screen comedian and one of the most ardent baseball fans on the Pacific Coast, yesterday announced that he will contribute a full-lined pitcher's plate to the Coast League player who achieves the distinction of making the greatest number of strikes during the coming season.

Beery, who recently appeared in a motion picture as the immortal Casey of E. I. Tupper's "Casey at the Bat," feels sure that it is understood that the prize offer be in no way considered a bribe. It is Jerry's wish that only legitimate errors be scored and all intentional strikes be discounted from the final reckoning.

The offer, it is understood, is of particular appeal to the hundred odd rookies now in training in the coast cities.

INJURIES ALONE CAN KEEP BUCS FROM FLAG, SAYS BUSH

BY BOB RAY
Times Staff Correspondent

PASO ROBLES, March 16. (Exclusive)—If you'll take the word of Donnie Bush for it, injuries are about the only thing that can keep the Pittsburgh Pirates from winning the National League pennant this year.

The new pilot of the Pirates, whose pepper and shrewdness have made him a big favorite with the fans, is positive that the Bucs will finish in the top spot in the senior circuit campaign this year.

Season despite the fact that most of the critics are saying that the race will probably be a five-club affair between the Cards, Bucs, Reds, Giants and Cubs—a toss-up as to which one will win.

The present batch of Pirates have plenty of youth, amazing power, great speed, enthusiasm and, better than average pitching. Most folks who follow the box scores are of the opinion that the Bucs should have won the tag last year, just as they did in 1925, but a series of injuries that put both Traynor and Wright on the disabled list, and the loss of the team's best pitcher, Fred Clarke, in the heart of the pennant chase.

Bush will be in sole command this season, so that takes care of the more difficult part of the team. That leaves it wholly up to whether the club can get by with injuries and nobody knows how that's going to pan out.

GOOD HURLING STAFF
There are some who seem to think that the Pirates are a bit shy on hurling strength. However, in Ray Kramer, who was the most effective pitcher in the Herdier circuit last season, the Bucs have a real find. Johnny Morrison and Emil Yde, the Bucs have a quarter of chuckers sure to deliver some good work.

Bush, who did fairly well near the tag end of the last season's race after he had been brought from Washington, may come through with a good season. Bush believes that Carmel Hill, respected hurling star of the Cardinals, is a better pitcher than he is.

Hill pitched for Donie, when Bush was managing Indianapolis last year. Hill was grabbed by the Buccaneers.

Add to that list Don Souger, the long, lean left-hander, who has been in several good performances last season and appears better than ever this spring, and the Bucs' mound staff is in better shape than a lot of people suspect. Then there are a lot of promising youngsters in the camp and Bush believes that the least of them will deliver the goods.

Joe Mahaffey, who comes from the Columbus South Atlantic League club, appears to be the best of the lot, and he has a game and a day and a half in the regular-pennant games. The rest of the Bucs' pitching staff is made up of the following: Warren, Allen Harrington and Johnny Wheatley.

OPEN NEW TRAPSHOOT CLUB HERE

Local Sportsmen Back Extensive Proposition for Gunners

Los Angeles is again to have the leading trapshooting club in the nation according to an announcement made yesterday by a group of well-known local sportsmen. The new club will be known as the Southern California Country Club at Los Angeles and will be situated within six miles of the city limits. It will be located on a tract of land on Telegraph Road composed of twenty-two acres, which has been leased from the Vall Land Company. Incorporation papers for a permit to form a holding corporation of $25,000, composed of 1000 shares of stock at $25 per share has already been forwarded to the Secretary of State. Plans for the new club have been already been drawn and work will begin on the proposition within a week.

The new trapshooting club will house the old Los Angeles Gun Club, which has been kicked around from pillar to post.

Fred H. Teple, well-known sportsman, will lease the plant from the holding company and will endeavor to trapshooting back on a high and lofty position in the field of sports. On the grounds, according to the plans, will be four sets of traps with shooting platforms in front of the clubhouse.

There will also be a shooting tower installed, according to the announcement, for the more difficult shooting tests. The building of the clubhouse will take about thirty days, according to the plans, and the opening guns should break about April 10.

Among the sportsmen who are behind the movement are C. O. Somers, L. G. Craft, B. A. Gillespie, E. L. Crook and C. L. Nickles.

Johnny Neuh, first baseman, are the athletes Lane hopes to get from the outfielders who hit from the port side of the platter.

There is apparently little hope of Hollywood getting Cedric Durs, the former Angel centerfielder, from the Yankees. Three American League clubs, it is understood, will refuse to waive on Durs. Tangled to that Cedric is making himself mighty popular with the Yanks, having batted out a home run with the bases filled on Tuesday. It will not be surprising to see the Yanks keep him all season, and if they do decide to let him go it's a cinch that some American League club will claim him.

 of the ocean—the lure of mountain trails and bridle paths—the challenge to contests of skill and endurance on the field and in the water.

For maturity, there is the beauty of gorgeous sunsets on an azure sea
 —the shade of parks and palisades—
 the peace and contentment of sunlit beach and bay.

For all, there is the joy of living in an atmosphere of culture and accomplishment and the opportunity to mix with people whose outlook is broad,
 whose aims are for better things,
 both civic and social.

The various activities which are woven into Santa Monica community life are without number. Perpetual freedom from climatic discomfort makes every form of outdoor sport possible all year long. Polo is played any month in the year. Miles of bridle trails—through mountains and up the picturesque shore line of Santa Monica Bay—are always open. Swimming, yachting and fishing are summer and winter pastimes. The golfer will have an all-year choice of five of the best courses in the Southwest.

Tennis, cricket, beach-golf, hiking, picnicking—every kind of field and seaside sport is in season from New Year's to Christmas.

Social and cultural clubs are legion.
 Music, drama, arts and sciences, all find regular patronage. Women's and men's social and business clubs are all active in many spheres of endeavor.
 Religious institutions, embracing all creeds and denominations, offer all forms of worship. The annual Chautauqua of the Pacific Palisades, just across the Canyon, attracts huge gatherings of people from every corner of the United States. Educational facilities, schools and private academies are second to none in California.
 The State University and the Occidental College have wonderful locations in the Santa Monica mountains!

Investment and business opportunities are unique. Immense acreage, fully improved, is now suitable for light industries and for various commercial enterprises. Vast hillside property, along the northern boundary, is rapidly taking shape as one of the finest residential parks in America.

Come to Santa Monica. Share with us the joys of ideal living. Our sports, our outdoor activities and our varied community interests will soon make for you a host of friends.

Street Improving

A necessity

WITHOUT paved streets, sewers, storm drains, sidewalks and street lights what would this state or any state be?

The improving of streets and roads is an absolute necessity to the welfare of every man, woman and child and to the state at large.

California investors are afforded a wonderful opportunity to assist in the building of these public necessities by directing a part of their investment funds into California tax free Street Improvement Bonds, yielding 6 to 6 1/2 per cent.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, March 16. (P)—Coincident with a temporary softening of money rates due to the government payment of approximately $700,000,000 to investors in principal and interest on the public debt, the market for listed bonds gathered further strength today. The combined average of forty leading issues reached the highest level since early in February. Reports from the Treasury Department that holders of second Liberty Bonds had exchanged about $1,000,000,000 of their holdings for the new Treasury notes was regarded as a healthy sign.

High-grade railway mortgages again held the center of interest in the domestic market. Illinois Central 5 1/2%, Missouri, Kansas and Texas Adjusted 5% and New York Central refunding 5% were the most active. Continued liquidation in certain convertible issues, however, resulted in a few soft spots.

Despite renewed selling pressure against bonds of oil companies, presumably because of recent overproduction and price cuts, industrial mortgages were supported by the strength of the general market. Utility, however, lagged behind.

The government list was again active, but ready offerings met the heavy demand, and prices generally were irregular. Second Liberty 4 1/2% and Liberty 5 1/2% commanded the major share of attention.

Further demand for French government, municipal and railway issues featured the foreign division. Prompt oversubscription was reported of the $15,000,000 Skelly Oil Company 5 1/2% per cent debenture, the $15,000,000 Republic of Peru 7 per cent issue, and the $6,000,000 State of Pernambuco, Brazil, 7 per cent bonds.

The quotations represent closing prices of bonds of various kinds, including government, industrial, municipal, and foreign bonds, as well as bonds of various kinds, including government, industrial, municipal, and foreign bonds.

CHOICE OF DAM
SITE REPORTED

Engineers Declared to Favor Forks Location

Details Withheld on Findings in San Gabriel Project

---

Statement Will be Offered to Supervisors Monday

A decision virtually in favor of the Forks site and against the Granite site for the proposed $25,000,000 San Gabriel flood control dam was reported last night to have been reached unanimously by the three engineers who were $5,000 impartial investigation of the controversial San Gabriel flood control situation. The engineers announced that they had agreed unanimously on their report and that they will have it completed for presentation to the Board of Supervisors by Monday. Unfortunately, they said last night, they make no further announcement of persons who have been following the investigation said they understood from the engineers that the report will be made at the Works site rather than at the Board of Supervisors.

QUESTION OF HEIGHT

One particular the engineers' recommendation may differ from the county position is that the visiting experts may think that the dam might not need to be as high as the county is proposing.

about three years ago the people of a bond issue to finance a $25-million flood control project for the river but so much controversy had developed over the situation that the issue was long delayed. Finally the county decided to build a 425-foot dam at the Forks site.

In order to satisfy the public that the right thing was intended, county commissioners requested the Chamber of Commerce and other civic bodies to develop a plan to settle the disputes and bring the whole situation. The result

Engineers, Municipal League and Florida Taxpayers' Association suggested the impartial investigation of the whole problem by outside experts of proven high standing.

ENGINEERS NAMED

Accepting the suggestion the Supervisor appointed three engineers provided by the civic committee and was begun late last year.

The engineers are Charles H. Paul, Dayton, O., builder of Arrowrock and engineer of the Miami Conveyance District; Charles E. Mc-

...test committee of the Engineering Foundation, and Frederick Fowler, consulting engineer in Francisco, formerly engineer in California for the Federal Power Commission.
His decision is the result of three months of working in the field and of their notes, with a considerable number of associated experts in various fields.

Matron Denies Hypnotic Lure of Long Beach Faith Healer

PASTOR HELD ON HUSBAND'S PLEA

Woman Secretary Defends Jailed Minister

Her Friendship With Wife of "Doctor" Cited

Police Puzzled at Steps to Take in Inquiry

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, March 16.—Published accounts of the arrest here of "Dr." Adolph H. Englehart, so-called divine healer and pastor of the First Christian Church of Divine Healing of Long Beach, brought many callers to police headquarters here today. Each, police declare, told a story concerning the past life and the asserted conduct of the "Tutonic Healer," who is charged by A. B. Crowley, Porterville business man, with stealing the affections of pretty Mrs. A. B. Crowley, Englehart's present secretary.

Assertions made to police yesterday by Crowley that his wife has become hypnotized by the personality of the self-styled divine healer and that she has become his secretary to be near him, were denied emphatically today by Mrs. Crowley, who appeared at police headquarters accompanied by Mrs. Englehart, wife of the arrested pastor.

Both women ridiculed the statements of the Porterville man, and, arm in arm, posed for photographs today, "to convince the world that we are friends and that Mr. Crowley is talking through his hat," as Mrs. Englehart expressed it to newspaper men.

WIFE'S SIDE OF CASE
"I am deeply interested in the work of Dr. Englehart's church, and I was elected secretary by a vote of the church members in order that I could become more closely identified with the church work," Mrs. Crowley explained in answer to her husband's charges that she stole the affections of the "doctor." "I have been married to Mr. Crowley for a number of years and I left him some time ago because we could no longer get along together. This was before I became identified with the church and my leaving my husband had nothing to do with knowing Dr. Englehart," Mrs. Crowley declared that she has instituted divorce proceedings against her husband.

"Mrs. Crowley is my very best friend and any intimation that my husband has hypnotized her or that there is anything wrong between Dr. Englehart and Mrs. Crowley is rubbish," Mrs. Englehart, wife of the so-called divine healer, declared. Englehart still was in the City Jail at a late hour this afternoon, however, while detectives assigned to the case by Capt. J. B. Worley, continued to investigate his record. Copies of letters written by leaders of eastern spiritualist organizations dealing with the past history of Dr. Englehart at Providence, R. I., Erie, Pa., and other eastern cities were placed in the hands of the police last night. These letters, police say, describe Dr. Englehart as a "man whose personality lured women."

Another document dated at Anaheim, January 26, last, and signed by ten members of the divine healing church said to have been started there by Dr. Englehart, is a petition for the ousting of the self-styled pastor and charging the "healer" with having "mistreated members of his congregation both morally and financially."

"We feel that an investigation of his character and his work should be conducted," the petition reads. Heading the list of signatures is that of W. C. Gilbreath, prominent Anaheim business man and leader in the National Church of Divine Healing, police declare.

"Dr. Englehart preaches healing through the Bible and the spiritualists are against him," Mrs. Englehart said. "I have been a member of his church since 1914 and I have never seen him in the past twelve months. He practices what he terms 'the laying on of hands' in the handling of patients who are suffering from ailments."

A staunch believer in Dr. Englehart and his works is Mrs. Irene Beutel, 230 Newport avenue, who appeared at police headquarters and informed investigators that had not been for Englehart, her daughter would not be alive today.

DEBATE NEXT STEP
Police were debating late this afternoon as to their next step. Englehart is being held for investigation, but no complaint has been lodged against him and grounds for such a complaint were not sufficiently developed late today to justify a report, police admit. Statements by police this morning that the case had been held before the District Attorney's office here were denied this afternoon by Dep. Dist. Atty. McCarty, who declared the matter has not been formally placed before him by the police.

A. B. Crowley, complainant in the case, who, following a long conference with his wife in a room at police headquarters yesterday, drew a small bladed penknife and stabbed himself, was still in the City Jail today where police are holding him to prevent any attempt on his own life. The knife blade cut into his clothing but failed to penetrate the flesh. Previous to the knife-wielding episode, Crowley, while in a police interview room with Englehart and a private detective, attacked the "divine healer" pushing the latter through the glass of a bookcase. The men were separated by detectives.

Both women ridiculed the statements of the Porterville man, and, arm in arm, posed for photographs today, "to convince the world that we are friends and that Mr. Crowley is talking through his hat," as Mrs. Englehart expressed it to newspaper men.

HUGE DRIVE ANNOUNCED FOR SUNKIST

Fruit Growers Plan for Nation-wide Newspaper Advertising Campaign

With the largest crop of oranges ever produced on its way to market, the California Fruit Growers Exchange has announced an extensive newspaper advertising campaign. This, with Sunkist posters now showing, dealer service work and the Sunkist page in national magazines, is expected to aid materially in distribution of California oranges during the spring and summer months.

The campaign will be released by local district sales managers in the fifty-nine districts of the United States and Canada. The series of advertisements will appear in 228 of the largest newspapers of the country. Foreign language newspapers of New York City will also carry the campaign advertising.

In addition to featuring the many uses of California oranges in salads and desserts, a number of insertions will be devoted to orange juice and the Sunkist extractor. Increasingly important factors in the consumption of California orange crops.

California oranges are given satisfaction in eastern markets, according to General Manager Earl G. Desjardins of the exchange, who has just returned from the East.

AIRPLANE SUSPECTS INDICTED

Quartet Accused of Alien Smuggling by Air Named in Grand Jury Findings

Indictments charging conspiracy to violate the immigration law were voted yesterday by the United States grand jury against Jack Knight, an aviator, and four of his companions. Knight and his associates are said to have smuggled four Chinese into the United States.

The smuggling plot was disclosed when Knight's plane was forced down near Murietta Hot Springs, Riverside county. The four Chinese were found in the indictment.

Knight's four companions named in the indictment are R. B. Groves, Virgil Adair, P. W. Jones and Cloudy Morning Blackfoot, an Indian.

A true bill charging Ralph Williams with violation of the motor vehicle theft act was returned by the grand jury yesterday.

Williams was charged with the theft of a Buick sedan, which was transferred to the San Diego calendar, included R. A. K. B. Groves, Virgil Adair, P. W. Jones and Cloudy Morning Blackfoot, an Indian.

DECREE WON BY STORY OF MRS. BROWN

She Declares Her Efforts Made Him Director But He Wouldn't Speak to Her

Weeping bitterly, Mrs. Ona Brown yesterday gave testimony before Judge Summerfield, which as it was not denied or contested, won her a divorce decree from Clarence Brown, motion-picture director.

"When I married him," said Mrs. Brown, "he was a second-rate assistant director, and I made a director out of him. That cost me my home, for he got to thinking so well of himself he attempted to boss the house. He went nearly a year without even speaking to me."

The Browns were married in 1922 and separated December 22, 1926, according to Mrs. Brown's testimony. She declared her husband accused her unjustly of embezzlement, the fact being, she said, that she was one of the most economical wives in Hollywood.

Last December Mrs. Brown hurried back from Honolulu to deny reports of domestic friction, and her husband met her at the dock at San Francisco with kisses.

Mr. Brown, however, was informed there had been a property settlement out of court. Milton M. Cohen represented Mrs. Brown.

MRS. ROWAN LOSES SUIT OVER NOTE

Religious Leader Ordered to Pay $600 Asserted to Have Been Borrowed

A judgment of $600 and costs was entered against Mrs. Margaret W. Rowan, religious prophetess, and her husband, George W. Rowan, by Municipal Judge Galbreth yesterday at the conclusion of a suit instituted by Dr. Burt H. Pullmer against Mrs. Rowan and her husband for collection of the amount of a note. Evidence in the case has been presented before the court during the last two days.

This is the second legal tilt in which the prophetess has been vanquished within the last two weeks. In Municipal Judge MacCoy's court last week she, with two of her followers, was held to answer in the Superior Court on charges of conspiracy to murder Dr. Pullmer.

The civil suit was an outgrowth of strife that developed in the Seventh Day Adventist Reformed Church, composed of followers of Mrs. Rowan, when her prediction, that the world would end two years ago failed. Dr. Pullmer asserted his sister had advanced Mrs. Rowan $600 in 1925 on a note and had never been repaid.

In making his decision, Judge Galbreth informed the attorneys in the case that he was not interested in the various other angles of the case and was concerned only with the validity and payment of the note. He asserted it was apparent that the note was genuine, had been signed by Mr. and Mrs. Rowan and was as yet unpaid.

floods of the association yesterday filed with the City Council a statement declaring the association "was in no position to indorse this work, except from outward appearance."

The association's letter was signed by President Thomas F. Padden, Edwin S. Scott, H. M. Buchanan, president of the West Adams State Bank and treasurer of the association, Victor W. Frank, J. R. McGuire, J. R. Laughlin, Floyd G. Jones, H. W. Jack and Burton B. Crane. The association's letter to the Council said:

"The Greater West Adams Improvement Association gave to Peter S. Gadd, personally, an indorsement of work done on the West Adams storm drain and improvement work relation thereto, on the strength of outward physical appearance only, and with no intention that it be used as documentary evidence in furtherance of Peter S. Gadd, Inc., pending claim for adjustment of extra work, and should not in any way influence members of the Council in reaching a decision as to the legality of the pending claim."

"Our association is by no means capable of adjudging the work done and is in no position to indorse this work, except from outward appearance. ### WATT BORE BUILDER HERE

Watt Describes Tunnel

Between Denver and Salt Lake Shortened

Fields and Farm Lands Will be Opened Up

Watt, president of the Colorado Tunneling and Construction Company, which last week opened a hole in the Colorado Rockies, a hole which will become the shortest tunnel, the greatest engineering feat in the history of American development, arrived here yesterday. His company is now working on the tunnel, which will be 11 miles long, between Denver and Salt Lake City. The tunnel will open up 100,000 acres of new land for agriculture and stock raising. It will also shorten the travel time between the two cities from 10 days to 10 hours.

Watt, who is a native of Colorado, has been in the tunneling business for 20 years. He has been in charge of the construction of the Colorado Tunnel, which is the longest tunnel in the world. The tunnel will be 11 miles long and will cost $10,000,000 to build. It will be completed in 1930.

The tunnel will be built by the Colorado Tunneling and Construction Company, which is a subsidiary of the Denver and Salt Lake City Railway Company. The company is now working on the tunnel, which is the longest tunnel in the world. The tunnel will be 11 miles long and will cost $10,000,000 to build. It will be completed in 1930.

Famous Artist and His Subject

Artist to Crowned Families of Europe Portrays Vilma Banky as "The Exile"

Sir Arthur Ferraris, "The Exile" and Vilma Banky

MAGYAR "QUEEN" PAINTED

Artist to Crowned Families of Europe Portrays Vilma Banky as "The Exile"

BY FRED ROGUE

Sir Arthur Ferraris, decorated by five monarchs for his portraits of royalty, has just completed an oil painting of a new queen, the one whom he calls the most beautiful of all the fair and noble women whom it has been his privilege to paint. This time it is a Hungarian queen—and Sir Arthur is himself a Hungarian; but her realm is far from her native land and she is not the ruler of a political state, but a queen of hearts.

The subject is Vilma Banky, motion-picture star. At least a score of hereditary kings, queens, princes and princesses have become subjects for Sir Arthur's brush; for he is himself a monarch in the realm of art. He was almost as much of a favorite in the German and Austrian courts as was Van Dyke in the court of the elegant but hapless Charles I of England.

Charles is credited as having said during his captivity: "I have confirmed an old superstition. It is unlucky for a king to sit as a subject to a painter."

Those who are inclined to be superstitious may feel a further confirmation of this legend in the fact that followed quickly on the heels of Kaiser Wilhelm and Franz Josef. As was the case with Charles, not only the kings but also the thrones have fallen.

Maria of Rumania is the only monarch he painted who still occupies a throne, and most of the princes and princesses are either dead or in exile.

But this ill fate does not follow the painting of those who are great not from heredity but through their own efforts. For Ferraris' painter, Rockefeller three times twenty years ago and the oil king and his realm are both well preserved.

Sir Arthur came to Los Angeles in December, fortunate in not being struck by flying fragments of some of the falling thrones. But he did not come to paint but to accompany Lady Ferraris, who spent a month here in 1906, and insisted on returning to see once again the fields of golden poppies that bloom only in Southern California.

While he here visited the Goldwyn studio at Culver City and was the guest of Samuel Goldwyn at a preview. I sat beside him, while the film was shown. Vilma Banky takes the part of a princess of the House of Valois. "The fairest princess that ever tripped a toe."

EVERY INCH A QUEEN

"She is a queen!" exclaimed the painter in a sudden burst of enthusiasm. "Every inch of a queen! I must meet her. I feel the call of the brush. I must take a portrait of her back to my own people—her people. I must show them how this bud of Hungary has blossomed forth in Hollywood."

Introductions followed and the result is the canvas which Sir Arthur has named "The Exile," and that he will take with him to Vienna. For Sir Arthur is himself, in every way, an exile. What was his home in Hungary before the war became a part of Czechoslovakia by the Treaty of Versailles, and he chose to remain, at the price of becoming a citizen of the Czechoslovak Republic.

The throne has fallen; but Sir Arthur is a swallow that still builds its nest amid the ruins.

YEARS FOR HOMELAND

While Vilma was sitting for the portrait she talked with Lady Ferraris about the homeland.

"Hollywood is wonderful," she said. "The people here are so generous, so kind. They accept my wishes as commands; and how they feed me! But how I would like to turn at times from their banquet to eat a big piece of black Hungarian bread, made with yeast, not this American baking powder."

It is just the oft-repeated story: where childhood and youth are passed, he is ever so humble, a bit of one's heart always remains.

It is the longing for the far-away mother, and the Hungarian cottage among the trees and roses on the bank of a tributary of the Danube that forms the motive of the portrait. She sits in a bow of roses, but a bird is flying to the clouds above, on its way perhaps to the land of exile, and she follows it with eyes that express the longing of the exile.

DIRECTOR OF DRIVE FREED BY W.C.T.U.

Manager Lang Called to New Work in Pasadena; Campaign Workers Meet

Called to direct a drive for $100,000 for the construction of a new Young Men's Christian Association building at Pasadena, Henry Lang was released yesterday from his position as manager of the Women's Christian Temperance Union campaign. The $100,000 and Dr. E. Le Grand was chosen to succeed him to direct the campaign for funds for the building of the W.C.T.U. home for the aged at Eagle Rock. At a luncheon of 100 workers at the Broadway Department Store yesterday reports of the collection of $28,000 since last Wednesday were announced.

The total amount in the report is $28,000, of which Los Angeles has donated $28,000, the balance having been sent in from Orange county, Pasadena and Hollywood. The banner teams at yesterday's luncheon were the teams of Hollywood Union, in charge of Mrs. Neva Thomas, who reported the collection of $5000, and the University Union, headed by Mrs. Florence Elzer, who reported an equal sum.

Chairmen of the various teams voted to extend the time limit of the Los Angeles drive until April 1 in order to give the city opportunity to finish its quota of $100,000. The next luncheon will be conducted at the Broadway Department Store Cafe on the 22nd inst. The campaign will then be continued, simultaneously, in other parts of this county and in other sections of the state.

An all-day institute of the Los Angeles W.C.T.U. will be conducted at the First Methodist Episcopal Church today, starting at 10 a.m. Addresses will be given by officers of the various unions. The public is invited.

BOASTING OF 'PULL' CITED IN RUM CASE

Suspect's Trial Date Set, Allowing Ample Time for "Punishment" of Officer

It Eddie Le Roy has it within his power to induce the state to violate the rights of the accused, he will have ample time to prove his case before appearing before a jury in Municipal Judge Stafford's court on April 18, according to charges of sale and possession of liquor.

Le Roy's asserted claims to power were made at the time of his arrest, a case at 101 and 102 South street, according to a police report on file in Municipal Judge Turney's court, where he was arrested. The report was made by Officer Pilkington, who asserts he purchased liquor from the defendant.

According to the report, the defendant was given an opportunity to destroy the evidence, but he refused to do so. The officers thought Pilkington was holding up the case. After destruction of the evidence, the report states, Le Roy returned and gave himself up. It was then that he boasted of his power to run the officer from the force, according to the report.

"You can take your choice of either letting me go or losing your job on the police force," Le Roy is quoted as saying.

According to Detective Caldwell, the defendant has had three prior convictions on sale of liquor, four on possession of liquor, and one on cases pending against him. In transferring the case to Judge Stafford's court, Judge Stafford said he was at $5000 and Le Roy was released as August M. Nardoni.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Of more than usual interest to the Southland society is the approaching marriage in New York City of Miss Narcissus Vanderlip, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vanderlip of New York and Southern California, to Julian Leonard Street of Princeton, N. J. The ceremony is to take place in New York City, April 26, and the honeymoon will be passed here. Miss Vanderlip is an alumna of Vassar College and a classmate of Miss Suzanne Patterson Bryant, who, by the way, is planning to go east for the wedding. Mr. Street is connected with the Herald-Tribune in New York. The Vanderlips, who have a beautiful estate at Palos Verdes, also maintain a residence on Fifth avenue, New York, as well as a country estate at Scarborough-on-the-Hudson.

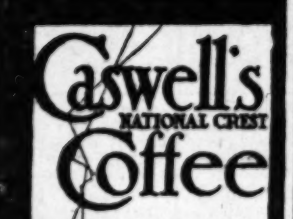

Miss Charlotte Vanderlip, other daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vanderlip, announced her engagement to

DIET and HEALTH
by Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

DAILY FOUNDATION REDUCING DIET

In reducing your weight it is highly important to reduce excess fat only, for the excess fat is the only tissue that you can spare. Therefore, in your reducing diet you must supply the needs for your various tissues. This means vitamins, mineral elements, protein and part of your energy needs.

I want you to have a certain foundation in those 1200 C's every day to supply these needs so that in reducing your weight you will not reduce your strength and health at the same time. After you have this foundation you can make your own choice of foods for the balance of the diet. You should have:

First: At least a half-pound of some water vegetables (2 1/2 cups) each day. These are especially lettuce, spinach, celery, asparagus, water-cress, cabbage, beet tops, green beans, etc. A half-pound of these, cooked or uncooked, without salt, will be approximately 80 C's.

Second: One cup of other vegetables, such as carrots, beets, onions, etc. That will approximate 100 C's.

Third: 300 C's of fruit. The following approximate 100 C's each: One-half large grapefruit; one medium, four and a half inches in diameter; one cupful of berries (raspberries, cherries, or blueberries); one cupful of plums, apricots, lemons or peaches; three or four dates; two or three figs; one-fourth cup of raisins or currants. Better make your desert of fruit.

Your fruit and vegetables will furnish a large share of the vitamins and mineral elements and some carbohydrates or energy food. It is best to take a large part of them raw. Fruits and vegetables are more or less similar foods, so if you cannot get vegetables, you can take more fruit, and vice versa.

Your fruit and vegetables should have at least one pint of skim or buttermilk. That will amount to 180 C's. (10 C's to the ounce), of which 70 C's are complete protein. Milk will also give you a liberal supply of calcium or lime. If you prefer whole milk you should count it a total of 320 calories to the pint (30 calories to the ounce).

If you do not care for milk, take three ounces (about two heaping tablespoons) of cottage cheese. This will give you 75 C's of complete protein, and the lime, the same as the milk would. Other cheeses are good but they contain higher in calories (one full inch cube of cream cheese is 100 C's).

Fifth: I want you to have two average sized potatoes, 200 C's, or two slices of whole-wheat bread, one-half inch thick, same number of calories. Those of you who are gouty or rheumatic had better take the potatoes instead of the bread because of their alkali salts.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

No matter how enthusiastically one talks of various infant foods, no matter how perfect are the babies reared with them, no one for a moment compares them with mother's milk. If mothers cannot nurse their babies, then one must, of course, try to find the food most nearly like it to replace it. But I advise you not to take these because it is best to learn not to care for them.

Now I want to talk a little bit about the distribution of your calories. You can take them during the day in any manner which you find most convenient. Take them all in one meal if you like and drink nothing but water the rest of the day; they won't get it, but it means that they are less likely than the baby who is fed on the bottle.

Now we have gotten to a stage when bottle feeding is no longer surrounded by the dangers of some years ago. Now we are going to the opposite extreme. Because bottle feeding is successful we are beginning to feel that it isn't necessary for a mother to try to breast-feed her baby; that the minute she cries with colic and becomes fussy and sleepless she should change to bottle feeding.

This is all wrong. It may take some time for the mother to adjust her own milk to the needs of the child and temporarily she may have to "piece" out with a bottle, but if she persists and holds in mind all the advantages of breast feeding, in most cases she will be successful.

It is true that some small percentage of mothers cannot breast-feed their children. Sometimes the milk is far too rich, and this is a condition which may be corrected by the use of a few drops of each nursing.

CROWDS DRAWN BY LIP READING

Hundreds of Spectators See Demonstration Here

Silent Conversation Carried on With Deaf Subject

Feature Marks Prevention of Deafness Week

How the handicap of deafness may be overcome by mastering the art of lip reading is being demonstrated this week by the Los Angeles League for the Hand of Hearing at 227 West Fourth street, under the direction of Lucy Ella Case, chairman of the local organization. The demonstration will close tomorrow night.

There are approximately 3000 children in the public schools of Los Angeles whose hearing is defective, according to Miss Case, and the number throughout the state probably will exceed 60,000, she said. In addition to the lip-reading school conducted by the league in this city, others have been established at Pasadena, Long Beach, Pomona, Inglewood, Monrovia, Santa Monica and Glendale.

CROWDS ATTRACTED

Hundreds of demonstrators yesterday when Miss Kelsey carried on a silent conversation through a plate-glass window with a pupil who is totally deaf. As a result the headquarters of the league was fairly besieged by deaf persons eager to know more about the plan.

In its effect on the social and economic life of the individual, the league points out, deafness is second only to blindness in its seriousness. To the inquiry: "Why are the blind so much more cheerful than the deaf?" Miss Case replied, "Because every time you speak to a blind man you make him forget his troubles; when you speak to a deafened one you remind him of his. Deafness is the sort of handicap that intrudes itself when one wishes most to forget it. So it is that we often find the deaf person shunning companionship while actually hungering for it."

FEATURE OF WEEK

The demonstration is being carried on as a feature of Prevention of Deafness Week, from the 14th to the 19th inst., and it is hoped by this means to arouse widespread interest in the work. In addition to the lip-reading course, the league is interested in methods of preventing deafness which can often be overcome in children by prompt application of scientific methods, experts assert. The public schools already have fallen in line and a measure now pending in the California Legislature is designed to further the cause.

NEW HOPE FOR DEAF IN SOUND WAVES

Renewed hope for the totally deaf is held out as a result of a unique series of tests and experiments with sound waves and the sense of touch which have just been completed at the University of California at Los Angeles by Prof. V. O. Knudsen, one of the nation's foremost experts on acoustics.

Results of the study, which already have won national attention from scientists and those working for the education of the deaf, indicate conclusively that the sense of touch and that of hearing have certain similarities.

This discovery has led Prof. Knudsen to the hope that ultimately a means may be found of utilizing the sense of touch to supplement lip reading on the part of the deaf.

By means of amplifiers and telephonic equipment the deaf have been able to recognize different vowel sounds and names of the days of the week through their sense of touch. It developed, in this study, that each word has a slightly different "feel" when spoken over the amplifier.

Unnumerable tests and experiments were conducted by Prof. Knudsen to detect differences in the intensity of loudness of tones with absolutely the same efficiency as the ear. But it also developed that the tactile sense cannot be made to respond efficiently to differences of pitch. In general, Prof. Knudsen found, the sense of touch can distinguish between high-pitched or low-pitched sound vibrations but that the fine gradations are lost on it.

BODY FOUND IN ALLEY OF HOLLYWOOD

Insurance Man Believed to Have Fallen or Leaped from High Building

The crushed body of Francis E. Williams, 60 years of age, of 1973 Cherokee avenue, was found late yesterday in an alleyway in the rear of the Guaranty Building, 1747 Hollywood boulevard, under circumstances which indicated he had fallen or jumped from the top of the building, which is twelve stories high. No motive for the suicide has been discovered, police said.

Williams was an insurance man and had offices in the Citizens' National Bank Building, police said they learned. The body was found by T. Brunell, who called Police Sergeant Danville. The latter decided Williams had been dead only a few minutes. As there were no open windows in the rear part of the building, it was decided his fall must have been from the roof.

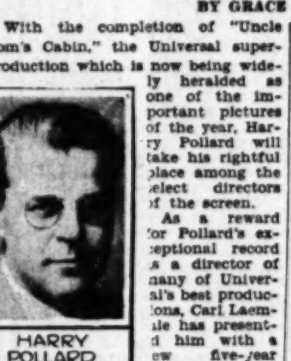

Williams's son, Wyman Williams, informed police that his father had had several fainting spells recently and believed he might have fallen during one of them. There was no reason, he said, to suspect foul play. Williams was on his way yesterday, his son said, to call on some real estate man in the Guaranty Building. Besides his son, the dead man leaves his widow, Mrs. Mary Williams.

EL PASO BANKER SAYS BUSINESS IMPROVED

Conditions in the Southwest are very much improved, Charles M. Bassett, banker of El Paso, Tex., said yesterday upon his arrival at the El Paso. Cattlemen are looking for the best year they have had for a long time because grass is good and prices are higher, he said. Mining conditions have improved and the oil development is becoming more important and is moving toward El Paso.

HARRY POLLARD IS HONORED

Uncle Carl Hands Uncle Tom Director New Contract; Dolores Del Rio Likely to Play Lead in Film; Eleanor Boardman Remains With M.-G.-M.

HARRY POLLARD

With the completion of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," the Universal production which is now being widely heralded as one of the important pictures of the year, Harry Pollard will take his rightful place among the select directors of the screen.

As a reward for Pollard's exceptional record as a director of many of Universal's best productions, Carl Laemmle has presented him with a new contract making the director one of the highest-paid figures in the picture industry. Pollard's former contract had a year to run, but was torn up by Laemmle and the new one substituted. The new five-year agreement will start shortly after the completion of the filming of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Although Harry Pollard has been working very hard for nearly a year on the picture, he will hardly have any vacation, as he is scheduled to celebrate his new contract by beginning the production of Edna Ferber's story, "The Snow Boat," much of the action of which, oddly enough, takes place on the Mississippi River, in which country most of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was filmed. One can make a shrewd guess that many shots of the good old Father of Waters which Pollard made while down there will go into "The Snow Boat," especially as it is the practice of any good and experienced director, when he is on foreign ground, to take pictures of backgrounds to be used if opportunity arises, in other pictures.

Margaretta Fischer is making her return to the screen after several years' absence, in "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Dolores Del Rio Chosen

Just what favored actress would be chosen to play the lead in Clarence Brown's Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature, "The Trail of '98," has long been an exciting question in Hollywood. Brown has made innumerable tests of well-known stars.

Now, however, it seems practically certain that Dolores Del Rio will have the part, although up to last night the contract had not yet been signed. Miss Del Rio is under a personal contract to Edmund Carew, who claims the honor of having discovered her, and whose faith in the young woman's talents has been amply justified. If details concerning salary, etc., can be arranged, Miss Del Rio is to have the role.

Eleanor Boardman

A nice, new shiny contract was handed to Eleanor Boardman by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer yesterday, according to announcement last night by Irving Thalberg.

Miss Boardman at present is playing the female role in King Vidor's latest production for M.-G.-M., "The Crowd," a super-special which is expected to be the "big parade of peace" in the eloquent words of Mr. Thalberg.

Last year Miss Boardman played the leading female role opposite John Gilbert in "Bend Sinister," and "The Sign of the Cross." Another of her recent screen efforts which has brought considerable favorable comment from film critics was the leading female role in Lon Chaney's "Tell It to the Marines."

Laemmle's New One

Edward Laemmle is to make his first picture for Universal, a film play called "Counselor for the Defense," adapted from the stage play of the same name. He is starting work on the adaptation, and will begin engaging his cast next week.

Leah Baird With Holmes

Leah Baird has been signed to co-star with Taylor Holmes in the latter's series of comedies, work on which has just started at the Twentieth studios under the auspices of Gaiety Comedies, Inc.

The working title of the first picture is "The Second Honey-moon." The pictures are to be of domestic comedies after the fashion of the popular "Highboy" stories on the Saturday Evening Post.

Blizzard Star of Screen

The White River Junction section of Vermont has been neglected long enough, thinks Cecil B. De Mille, "that is the noted spot, you know, where 'ay Down East' was filmed, and is the original home of the blizzard."

Wherefore De Mille has sent the technical staff of "The Country Doctor" back there to record a blizzard doing its stuff. In order to use it in the picture, Rupert Julian is directing.

Nettie Revell Honored

It was old home day at the Montmartre yesterday, on the occasion of the luncheon which Eve Unsell, noted screen writer, gave in honor of Nettie Revell, well-known publicist and magazine writer, formerly of the stage.

The orchestra played "For Auld Lang Syne," as some hundred guests gathered around Neil and the festive board. That was good for a test in more than one eye among the players of stage and screen who used to troupe with Miss Revell in the old days, long before her now celebrated spine gave out, and she spent five years in a hospital bed, dressed, as she declared in her speech yesterday, "in a costume designed and built by the Fuller Cement Construction Company."

Man in Miss La Plant's Drama

A few short years ago the announcement that Bryant Washburn was to be seen in a forthcoming production was the signal for all flappers, or whatever they were called in those days, to congregate at the theater. Washburn was a popular man, a star, and he could always be depended upon to win the girl in the final reel and give the villain his just deserts.

In "The Love Thrill," opening at the Uptown Theater tomorrow, this same Bryant Washburn portrays the role of the villain. He is a nice sophisticated villain, faultlessly dressed and over polite, a far call from the bearded brute that he used to vanquish so regularly, but a villain just the same.

Laura La Plante, plays the starring role in "The Love Thrill," and in addition to Washburn is supported by Tom Moore, Nat Carr, Jocelyn Lee, Arthur Hoyt and other featured players.

The direction is by Millard Webb, who also wrote the story in collaboration with Joseph Mitchell.

COMEDY OF HOME LIFE WILL OPEN

"One of the Family" to be Presented Following Current Play

A play from Broadway, New York, is scheduled as the next production at the Morocco. It opens Sunday afternoon.

This new play for Los Angeles is "One of the Family," by Kenneth Webb. It just recently closed an engagement on New York's radio and comes to this city with the reputation of being a laugh-producive as well as a drama in which a love story is interwoven.

Alma Telford and John Lister will play the leading roles and Elizabeth Allen and Mitchell Harris will take principal parts.

The story concerns a secretly married couple whose intimate actions are very shocking to an old-fashioned Boston mother. The couple and the children in the play are ultra-modern in their actions and are continuously startling the mother with new ideas.

Others in the play are Jane Morgan, Jacinta Martinoff, Ida May, Ruth Handforth, Harry Garrity, and James Bush.

"Synthetic Sin" in its world premiere at the Morocco, will close Saturday night.

Skipper of Old Wouldn't Have Traveled Canal

Would the Panama Canal have aided shipping forty years ago?

"No" is the venture of research authorities at De Mille studios after inquiring into nineteenth century ocean travel and shipping in preparation for "The Yankee Clipper," Supers Julian's production of the sea and sailing ships, which will have its premiere at the Forum next Wednesday night in conjunction with the initial showing of Will Rogers in "In Dublin." Studio experts found that Panama tolls are so high with the short cut from Atlantic to Pacific that in the "fifties" the wind-jammer skippers would have saved money by going around Cape Horn.

The present toll, exceeds what was then open sea travel, wages, diet, and the present cost of motive power, which in those days was "free air." With present transportation, however, the fuel saving makes the canal passage profitable.

William Boyd, Elinor Fair, Julia Faye and Junior Coghlan have the leading roles in "The Yankee Clipper."

West Will See William Hodge Play in April

William Hodge, New York stage star, is also an ardent champion of "the road." He always takes his own play on tour, after his New York runs, and his only complaint is that he cannot cover more territory with each play.

It is a dozen years since his last western tour in "The Man From Home" and "The Road to Happiness." Now it is announced that he will appear for two weeks commencing April 18 at the Mason Opera-house, in his new comedy "The Judge's Husband."

Hodge does not feel that he can do justice to a role he has played more than two seasons or at most three—and usually it takes him this long to cover New York, Boston, Chicago and a small list of western and midwestern cities. However, he determined not to let any more years go by before he renewed his acquaintance with the West, so the Messrs. Shubert booked "The Judge's Husband," with the entire original Broadway cast intact, on a tour that will extend far into next summer.

STAR-DIRECTOR UNIT RETAINED TO REPEAT

Declared to be another victory for the permanent star-director combination is the "Gilding Vine," the Hill-street screen attraction this week.

Leatrice Joy is the star of this picture; the director is Paul Sloane, one of the youngest megaphone wielders in the industry.

Sloane and Miss Joy were associated in "Eve's Leave." Because of the success of that picture, Sloane and Joy were again "teamed" for "The Gilding Vine." Reports indicate that this production is even better than their first together.

De Mille has definitely announced that "Mademoiselle from Amnerville," the Albert Seltzer film original, is to be given to this star-director team.

TO WEAR GREEN TARDILY

By the decree of Mr. McFadden of "McFadden's Flats," St. Patrick's day has been changed to the 18th inst.

Instead of the usual 17th at Loew's State Theater.

Loew's State has booked "McFadden's Flats," Irish comedy, for a week's run, to open tomorrow.

It was intended to open on St. Patrick's day as a good Irishman comedy should, but it happens to fall on a Thursday this year and the policy of Loew's is to change pictures on Friday, it was decided to change the holiday to the 18th.

"McFadden's Flats" is said to be one of the best Irish comedies of the year. It has been approved by John J. Splain, president general of the American Irish Historical Society and chairman of the Connecticut censorship board. Mr. Splain even went so far as to recommend it to Dr. J. J. Lynch, national secretary of "Friends of Irish Freedom" and to praise Edward Small, the producer of "McFadden's Flats."

Charlie Murray plays the part of Dan McFadden, while Edna Murphy enacts the role of his daughter, Aggie. Herring plays his wife. They are all good Irish names. Chester Conklin, however, portrays the part of Jack McFadden, a Scotch barber and "close" friend of McFadden.

"McFadden's Flats" is an old-time stage play, but Mr. Small, who produced it for the screen, has brought the date up to date so that it sounds like modern note of how to make money in America. The picture has been booked to have broken box office records in practically every theater and city in which it has played.

Its record run of three weeks at the Strand Theater in New York has been equaled by only three other pictures in thirteen years.

Gilda Gray in Tale of Night Clubs to Open

Gilda Gray's second starring picture for Paramount, "Cabaret," opens tomorrow at the Metropolitan Theater for a run of one week.

"Cabaret" presents Miss Gray in a natural role, for she is cast as Gloria Trask, a beautiful young girl who has become the most famous dancer of New York's exclusive night clubs.

The picture is a story of the life of a girl who has become the most famous dancer of New York's exclusive night clubs.

'Roxie' Hart is Murderess in 'Chicago'

"Chicago," Maurice Watkins' current New York success, will have its world stage premiere outside of Gotham at Macdon's Music Box Theater a week from Friday evening.

Lillian Albertson is directing the production. The Watkins opus created no small amount of interest and controversy in New York, largely because of its unusual plot and sequences. It is centered around "Roxie" Hart, "the world's most beautiful murderess."

Miss Watkins was for several years a reporter on one of Chicago's largest dailies, and she covered all the trial scandals in the play in a spirit of satire.

With the entire cast selected, rehearsals are progressing rapidly and it is reported that when the curtain rises on the evening of the 10th inst., for the beginning of the first act, the audience will witness a finely acted and directed production as the current theatrical season may boast.

Comic artists are at work on the various sets, and the entire theater is a bustle of activity.

A feature of the presentation of "Chicago" will be the continuation of the midnight performances at the Music Box Theater, Mr. Macdon announced. It will be the first time in Los Angeles that a nonmusical show will have a regular midnight performance, and it is expected to prove as popular as the midnight performances of Macdon's New Music Box Revue, starring Fanny Brice, the current attraction at the Music Box.

Figueroa Will Have Realistic Type of Drama

John Barrymore in "Don Juan" will finish his two week engagement at the Figueroa Theater on Sunday night.

On Friday afternoon the Figueroa Theater will offer the world premiere of William K. Howard's "White Cock," starring Julia Faye.

Called as one of the most unusual motion pictures ever produced, Fred Miller is highly excited that his star has been chosen for the first public showing. Booked at the New York City has booked it for showing later this week for $50,000. Barrymore there, but Los Angeles will see it first.

In honor of this event the theater will be ablaze with light on Friday night and Miss Gaudal and other members of the cast will appear in person with William K. Howard acting as master of ceremonies.

A musical program by Santa Anita and his twenty-piece orchestra on the stage; a special two-reel comedy and the usual news and novelty reels will complete the program.

Girl Wins Lead in Film After Rapid Progress

From extra parts to leads in two years is the story of Olive Hasbrouck, seen on the Broadway Palace screen this week in "The Bachelor Scout," opposite Fred Thomson.

Miss Hasbrouck won her first extra work at the Universal studio. She was extra for only three days. At the end of that time she was used for a small bit and never returned to extra again. From then on, she went to greater parts and finally to leads in her story, extending over about twenty-four months.

"The Bachelor Scout" features Olive opposite Thomson in a western role. It is her second picture with the cowboy star and it is quite possible she will appear in other forthcoming pictures with him, since fans have commended favorably in January Thomson on the work of his new leading lady.

PLAYING BRIDGE IS DANGEROUS BUSINESS

"Never bid a no-trump when you have a major suit in your hand. Whether this is a good bridge playing or not, it loses a lot of money for the holder of the hand when the play cards with the Deacon in 'Alas the Deacon' at the Hollywood Playhouse."

Not only bridge players, but almost everyone is finding this play to be most amusing. The Deacon is equally as home as the bridge game, a sermon, or riding in a box car.

Berton Churchill, who is the creator of the role of the Deacon, admitted that when he came to Los Angeles to play the role he expected the drama to have a short run and he asked the producers for a guarantee of several weeks salary. His fears were justified, he said, since the run of the play, which is now in its eighth week, has brought him a much longer contract than he believed he could obtain in Hollywood.

LASKY ON FIRM NAME

"Millions of people," according to Jess L. Lasky, "who are familiar with the extensively advertised 'Paramount Pictures' do not appreciate that Paramount pictures have always been made by Famous Players-Lasky Corporation. It has been proposed to change the name to Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation, thus taking into our corporate title a valuable good will that has been created by our product during the last fifteen years."

IN "SLAVES OF BEAUTY"

Olive Tell has been assigned the leading role in "Slaves of Beauty," which is the new title of the screen version of "The Grand Rapids." Nina Wilcox Putnam's story, being directed by J. G. Blystone at Fox Films West Coast Studios. The cast includes Fanny Brice, Blackie White, Margaret Livingston and Holmes Herbert.

RE AMERICANIZING 'EM

Foreign-made motion pictures exercise powerful attraction for Walter Anthony, editor-in-chief of the Stilling department of the Universal Film Corporation, for he is now writing the captions on the third "Immigrant" picture, namely Jean Sorenson's nimitation of a story based on Hugo's "Les Miserables."

WIELDS CRUEL WHIP

"Out-standing" Leila in George Siegmann's slogan in the role of the cruel whip wielder in Harriet Beecher Stowe's famous epic, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," being produced by Universal, to whom the famous character will be under starring contract.

TO DIRECT FOR FOX

Frank O'Connor has been signed by Fox Films to direct "Macabha," a screen version of the play by Rida Johnson Young, according to an announcement by Winfield R. Sheehan, vice-president.

CONVICTED MAN TO BE WITNESS

Priest Waiting Execution is Called to Court
Sensational Testimony Expected at Santa Ana

Speculation Rife as to What His Story Will Be

SANTA ANA, March 16.—The Rev. Philip A. Goodwin, actor-priest condemned to be hanged for the murder of Joseph J. Patterson, will have opportunity for retaliation upon Albert Dewey Gaines, his "pal," who turned against him and aided the prosecution in convicting the priest.

This was made known this afternoon when two deputy sheriffs armed with an order of the court departed for San Quentin to bring Father Goodwin to Santa Ana as a State's witness in the trial of Gaines.

The priest is expected to be here Friday. The announcement gave a pronounced dramatic impetus to the trial of the "Utah cowboy." Immediately speculation ran riot as to what the priest might tell in court against the friend whom he regarded as a betrayer.

"World Goodwin insists upon the truth of the statement that he has repeatedly made—that he doesn't know who killed Patterson since he was not present, or would he attend that attitude which failed to save him at his trial and admit the verdict of the jury that he was actually involved in the murder, and doing that would be drag Gaines down into the pit of guilt with him?"

These were the questions being asked as the Gaines prosecution to-day resumed work on the preliminary framework of its case. Since Goodwin's appeal from the death sentence is now before the Supreme Court, most observers believed that he would not make any admissions. If he had any to make his own safety would seal up his lips, they thought.

The appearance of the convicted priest upon the witness stand if it transpires will lead extra color to the trial, all agree. The matter was his testimony may be. Today's proceedings had not yet brought the prosecution of Gaines to the point where the hard fighting may be expected.

Sound Taps for Veteran of Civil War

GLENDALE, March 16.—Thomas M. Barrett, a pioneer resident of Glendale and a veteran of the Civil War, died at his home, 304 West Wilson street yesterday, aged 88 years, following an illness that had gradually sapped his strength during the last eighteen months.

Mr. Barrett was twice commander of the N. P. Banks Post of the O. A. R. and for eight years acted as adjutant and for four years as postmaster. He was a member of the Southern California Veterans' Association, and was chosen in 1922 as the representative from California to the national convention of the Grand Army of the Republic.

He was a native of Ireland, coming to the United States with his parents when he was 6 years of age, living for some years in Boston, and moving later to Racine, Wis., where he enlisted in the Union Army at the outbreak of the war and served for four years and four months. He resided in Kansas after the war and was instrumental in establishing the Presbyterian Church at Millerville, Kan., having been ordained an elder in the church in 1880.

He had been a resident of Glendale for the past eighteen years, making his home here with his daughter, Miss Isabel M. Barrett, who, with her sister, Mrs. Holmes G. Brown, 1701 South Park street, Pomona, and her brother, Edward M. Barrett of Orchard, Iowa, survive.

FASTEST SPEEDER TO EXPLAIN TO JUSTICE

SANTA ANA, March 16.—The fastest speeder booked in Orange county for many months is due to appear before Judge Jack Landell at San Juan Capistrano this week, according to a report on file at the office of the State traffic bureau. He is H. J. Robinson of the West Coast Theater in Los Angeles. Robinson is charged with speeding, seventy miles per hour. He was arrested by State Traffic Officer Floyd Yoder.

Just what Robinson will draw down in the San Juan Capistrano court is a matter of speculation.

Jack Mabee, Santa Ana automobile dealer, and street warden, Sunday on the State highway near San Juan Capistrano, will also face Landell on a charge of speeding. Mabee was traveling fifty-five miles per hour, according to the arresting officer.

BROKER AT OCEANSIDE GETS SAN DIEGO LAND

OCEANSIDE, March 16.—(Exclusive) R. C. Beers, for years an active real estate man in Oceanside and the owner of property, including Plumas Heights, south of the drift, upon which a number of attractive residences have been erected, has exchanged most of his holdings in Oceanside for property in San Diego, to which city he will move. The business of the R. C. Beers Realty Company will be conducted by Harry D. Brodie, former City Clerk, who has been associated with Mr. Beers.

NAVAL MEN SAVE LIVES OF SAILORS

Three of Crew of Wrecked Ship Drift 800 Miles in Open Boat

SAN DIEGO, March 16.—(AP)—An account of the dramatic rescue of three members of the crew of the Ecuadorian schooner Albatross after they had drifted twenty-eight days in an open boat in the South Pacific, was contained in a letter received here today by Mrs. H. E. McCarroll, from her husband, a boatwain's mate aboard the destroyer Wood, from San Diego.

The successful search of the Wood for the crew of the Albatross, another brilliant chapter in the peace-time exploits of the destroyer, was made known this afternoon when two deputy sheriffs armed with an order of the court departed for San Quentin to bring Father Goodwin to Santa Ana as a State's witness in the trial of Gaines.

The announcement gave a pronounced dramatic impetus to the trial of the "Utah cowboy." Immediately speculation ran riot as to what the priest might tell in court against the friend whom he regarded as a betrayer.

"World Goodwin insists upon the truth of the statement that he has repeatedly made—that he doesn't know who killed Patterson since he was not present, or would he attend that attitude which failed to save him at his trial and admit the verdict of the jury that he was actually involved in the murder, and doing that would be drag Gaines down into the pit of guilt with him?"

These were the questions being asked as the Gaines prosecution to-day resumed work on the preliminary framework of its case. Since Goodwin's appeal from the death sentence is now before the Supreme Court, most observers believed that he would not make any admissions. If he had any to make his own safety would seal up his lips, they thought.

The appearance of the convicted priest upon the witness stand if it transpires will lead extra color to the trial, all agree. The matter was his testimony may be. Today's proceedings had not yet brought the prosecution of Gaines to the point where the hard fighting may be expected.

PASADENA VOTES FOR DIRECTORS

Primary Held Under Rules of New Charter
Entire New Board to Replace Present Council

Thirty-two Candidates for Fourteen Nominations

PASADENA, March 16.—Pasadenans will go to the polls tomorrow and elect a new board of city directors. Thirty-two candidates for the fourteen directorial posts will be nominated in tomorrow's primary.

For the first time since the City-Manager form of municipal government was established here, all seven directors will go out of office. This situation was caused by a city charter amendment passed last fall, strengthening the City-Manager plan and at the same time calling for the election of an entire new board of directors this spring.

Each voter is entitled to cast a ballot for one candidate in each of the seven districts. The two in each district receiving the highest number of votes in the primary will stand for election in the election three weeks from now.

The seven candidates, one from each district, endorsed by the Modern Government League, have received the majority of both praise and abuse in the campaign. The league's friends say it stands merely for clean, representative government by able men. Its enemies declare the organization is trying to obtain political control of the city by hand-picking candidates. Two of the candidates are women, and the league candidates, while the other is opposing them bitterly.

The candidates are so-called independents. Among them are four of the present City Directors: Franklin B. Cole, Carl S. Newcomer, Frederick J. Loomis and William Eastbrook.

Approximately 30,000 voters are registered. The polls will be open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m.

DENIES PRACTICE OF FRAUD

Truman B. Gosnell Was Sane When He Sold His Oil Holdings Says Ralph B. Lloyd in Court Pleading

VENTURA, March 16.—Denying that Truman B. Gosnell, pioneer, who became wealthy overnight when oil was found on his Ventura ranch property, was mentally incompetent at the time he sold his oil interests in the property on June 10, 1925, for $72,000, and asserting that he did not represent Gosnell at the time the deal was made that the salt water in the Gosnell oil sands had lowered the value of the lands, Ralph B. Lloyd, oil magnate, former Ventura and neighbor of Gosnell, today filed an answer in the Superior Court here to the suit recently brought by Gosnell's guardians to regain title to the lands.

The suit was filed recently by Ira Gosnell and Lena Boyer as guardians for their father, in which they assert that the property had a value of more than $3,000,000, and by which they sought to recover not only the title to the lands but also the money Lloyd has received in royalties from the Shell Company on the oil and other products developed from the land since the deal was consummated.

Lloyd said that T. B. Gosnell, at the time the sale was made, was sane and of sound mind, and that he never made such statements. First of the Gold Ore From New Weepah Field in Nevada arrived in Los Angeles this week under convoy by John Blackledge (on running board) and J. A. ground-breaking ceremonies for the unit of the main building of the Ches Beach Club will be conducted 8 p.m. Saturday. The building tract was awarded yesterday to Whitt-Shields Company, J. Ward En, president of the club, announced.

It is expected the greater part of first unit will be ready for use summer. Other parts will be pleted in time for the State real estate convention in Santa Monica in October. The Gables will represent a total investment of $1,500,000, it was said.

With the contract for the Montebello

Odd Fellows $20,000 building awarded, work started yesterday on the three-story, reinforced concrete structure of Spanish style, 80x140 feet, located on the corner of Whittier Boulevard and Tenth street, Montebello.

Under the terms of the contract the building is to be completed by September 1, next. It includes a main dining-room, with a seating capacity of 800, a smaller dining-room and a large kitchen, modernly equipped.
